

The Perfect Bra

A tale of four women on their quest to find their perfect bra

Do you like your bra? Does it look beautiful and fit well? All. Day. Long? Maybe it does, and if so, feel free to skip down a paragraph or two. But if it doesn't, what if it did?

What if we could wear sexy, pretty lingerie all day and look and feel fabulous in it? Imagine no more tugging. No more pulling the back of the bra down, no more straps that fall constantly. No more breasts popping out of our cups or worse, squeezing out the bottom. No more shopping for hours and spending a boatload of your hard-earned dollars on the most uncomfortable, irritating piece of clothing you have to, but hate to, wear.

Imagine... A bra that just fits. And makes you look fantastic.

But WAIT! What if you do love your bras and all things lingerie, and maybe you just want more? The idea of finding that gorgeous one-of-a-kind piece is thrilling.

Either way, there's still the cost of hours (and dollars) spent shopping on blind hope that this time, you'll find the one. That's what Melissa, Jade, Ellis, and Laurie did and in the following pages, we'll follow them on their journeys to finding a way out of this costly, uncomfortable, and sometimes even painful, endless cycle. Because...

What if I told you there is...

One solution out there that could change everything?

One solution could totally transform your futile shopping sprees into a fun and creative experience? That one solution is [REDACTED].

At [REDACTED], you get that perfectly fitting bra every single time without trial and error, guaranteed. You even get it in your favorite colors (nope, you don't have to settle for just nude all the time). You can select sexy and flirty, or comfortable, lounging styles... without having to search for it online or setting foot in a mall.

And the fit process is done in the time it takes you to brush your teeth. Let's just say that bra shopping just got an upgrade.

Because it's not just about the bra. It's about the way you feel. It's about respecting your time and how hard you work and the contributions you make every single day. It's about knowing that when you get this bra, it will do its job and feel good, guaranteed. It's about the relief of ending the madness that surrounds so many bra shopping experiences.

Get Relief

Melissa, Jade, Ellis, and Laurie are about to find that relief. They are about to feel that excitement for discovering something new, something that works. They are about to join those who've already discovered the comfort, beauty and ease of shopping with [REDACTED]. But before they do, let's see what's been troubling them.

Finding the Perfect Bra!

Melissa, Jade, and Laurie all hate to shop for bras! They don't want to spend their day going from store to store, hunting bra sales and finding nothing. Ellis loves going shopping for bras, but she dreams of flying to Paris to find that one unique treasure in a little boutique that no one back home has.

Melissa is frustrated because she can never find any cute bras that fit. Jade is told that she's a different size at every single store she goes to (and she hates getting fitted by those skinny teenagers with long tape measurers). Laurie just settles for black, white and nude. It's all she can ever find. And she has to get underwires for full support, but after a few hours the underwire pain hits, but then it's too late to take it back to the store! And while Ellis loves bra shopping, she loves being original and would really like to find more unique lingerie and stop looking like all her friends.
